ABOUT THE COMPANIES...

ALDI

With roots dating back to 1913, Aldi came to the UK in 1990 and customers were amazed to see a true example of 'no frills' shopping. It's all about keeping overheads down so that the customer benefits from award-winning quality at low prices.

Aldi is a multiple award-winning employer, offering one of the best working environments in the UK and one of the highest rates of pay in the supermarket sector. Voted the 3rd Best Graduate Employer in the UK by the Times Top 100, Aldi offers one of the most challenging training programmes in retail.

Army Medical Services Reserve

203 (Welsh) Field Hospital

203 (Welsh) Field Hospital is part of the Army Medical Services (AMS) Reserve which provides vital support to the Regular Army and is one of 10 regionally recruited Field Hospitals around the UK.

We are looking for healthcare professionals drawn from most occupational areas throughout Wales who will have a unique opportunity to expand their existing skills and experience. The AMS Reserve will help develop confidence, leadership and communication skills. It is a spare time or part time career which runs alongside your NHS or other civilian career.

The AMS Reserve also provides Continuing Professional Development (CPD) opportunities by way of academic courses including, as well as accredited clinical training. There are also opportunities for support staff including Drivers, HR administrators, Chefs and various other trades.

The AMS Reserve selection criteria takes into account the value of professional qualifications, so a wide range of people are eligible to join, for most professions the maximum entry age is 50. You can also join if you are studying to be a doctor, nurse or allied health professional.

Mantell Gwynedd

Young volunteers

If you are 14 - 25 years old and interested in volunteering, then you are in the right place!

What is volunteering?

Volunteering is about giving your time and skills to support individuals, organizations, the community and good causes. This can be volunteering for one day a week at a charity shop or spending a year helping children in disadvantaged areas of the world.

Volunteering is not the same as work experience which is a fixed period in the workplace. Instead, volunteers support organizations in different ways such as helping the environment, a local sports team or helping others in hospitals.

What kind of volunteering do you want to do?

There are many volunteering opportunities available and in the following areas: Office work, the Environment, Sports, Fundraising, Health and Social Care, Retail (shops), Your local community, Youth Work, Heritage, International Volunteering

Gaining skills

Employers, Universities and Colleges love it if you have experience of volunteering! Volunteering shows you have transferable skills. Listing volunteering on your CV will help you to be different from other applicants. Employers, Universities and Colleges are now looking for these experiences on your CVs.

"Volunteering has helped me to be invited for job interviews and eventually to find a job. I gained experience and skills that I've been able to put on my CV."

What next?

To discuss your volunteering needs, please contact:

National Trust

We're a charity founded in 1895 by three people who saw the importance of our nation's heritage and open spaces and wanted to preserve them for everyone to enjoy. More than 120 years later, these values are still at the heart of everything we do.

We look after special places throughout England, Wales and Northern Ireland for ever, for everyone.

We take care of coastline, forests, woods, fens, beaches, farmland, moorland, islands, archaeological remains, nature reserves, villages, historic houses, gardens, mills and pubs and one of the world's largest art collections. We restore them, protect them and open them up to everyone. For the Trust, conservation has always gone hand-in-hand with public access.

We welcome everyone to explore:

- » 780 miles of coastline
- » Over 248,000 hectares of land
- » Over 500 historic houses, castles, ancient monuments gardens and parks and nature reserves.
- » Close to one million objects and works of art

Many of our properties are unable to fund their own permanent preservation. The cost of caring for them is high: our overall conservation project expenditure was £107.1 million in 2015/16. Most of our property is held inalienably, so it can never be sold or developed against our wishes without the consent of Parliament.

We rely on the support of our members, donors and volunteers, as well as income from grant-making bodies and commercial activities such as retail and food and beverage outlets, to look after the places in our care.

NHS Wales Finance Academy

NHS Wales is the publicly funded National Health Service of Wales providing healthcare to some 3 million people who live in the country.

We are looking for graduates with passion, energy, commitment and the highest level of integrity who want to commit to a financial management career, and who are comfortable living by their values and doing the right thing, even when it's tough.

Our 3 year Financial Management Graduate Scheme is open to graduates of any discipline to work in the Finance function of our Health Boards and Trusts across Wales whilst studying for a professional accountancy qualification.

North Wales Housing

Founded in 1974, North Wales Housing today is a successful social enterprise providing homes and delivering services to over 2,600 households across North Wales.

We employ up to 180 people and are proud to display the Investors in People Silver accreditation.

North Wales Police

North Wales Police covers the northern area of Wales - from Anglesey in the west to Wrexham in the east, as far south as Machynlleth and Aberdyfi.

Policing such a large geographical area means no two days are ever the same: our population is a diverse mix of urban, rural and coastal communities, with different needs and facing different issues. Ports, power stations and universities also bring their own unique set of challenges, but Team NWP is ready to face them all. Whether we're tackling organised crime, keeping our roads safe, or protecting the most vulnerable members of the community, we're here to make North Wales the safest place in the UK.

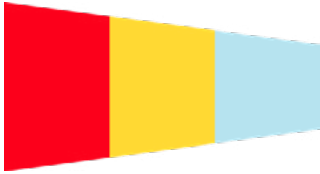

Opportunity China

Opportunity China is a gateway to exciting and enriching teaching opportunities in China, both for a range of experienced teaching professionals as well as new graduates.

We pride ourselves on offering a professional and personalised service to all candidates, right from their initial application through to beginning their dream opportunity in China.

Our annual Teach China Graduate Program recruits the Anglosphere's top graduates for well-paid roles in cities across China.

Opportunity China only work with schools and education organizations that meet our high standards. We seek to empower global citizens through cultural exchanges that act as a catalyst for cultural and economic enrichment.
