

RHEOLI COETIROEDD:

YN Y GORFFENNOL, Y PRESENNOL A'R DYFODOL - TREFTADAETH, YMARFER A CHYNALIADWYEDD

Dydd Iau, 22 Mawrth 2018

6.15pm – 8.45pm

Ystafell G23 Adeilad Thoday, Prifysgol Bangor,
LL57 2UW

Yn y symposiwm hwn ceir cyfle i wrando ar ddau arbenigwr nodedig yn siarad ar bwnc rheoli coetiroedd: yn y gorffennol, y presennol a'r dyfodol.

Coed ystadau'r gorffennol yn rhoi harddwch

Yr Athro Ian Rotherham, Prifysgol Sheffield Hallam – awdur dros 400 o gyhoeddiadau a chyd-olygydd yr Woodland Heritage Manual

Coeden yn cynhyrchu conau yn y presennol

Graham Taylor MBE, Cyfarwyddwr Pryor and Rickett Silviculture, Ymddiriedolwr Woodland Heritage, Cydgadeirydd Future Trees Trust

Trefnir gan Gymdeithas Myfyrwyr Coedwigaeth Bangor (BFS) mewn cydweithrediad â Sefydliad Ymchwil Ystadau Cymru a Woodland Heritage.

Uchod: derwen ifanc at y dyfodol

'CROESO I BAWB'

iswe.bangor.ac.uk

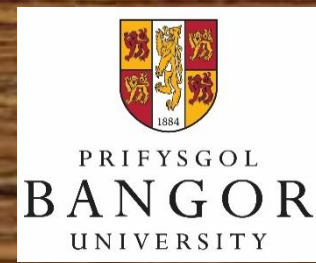

www.woodlandheritage.org/

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/22237837470/> (BFS)

Chwith: Myfyrwyr yn plannu coed at y dyfodol

Am fwy o wybodaeth: iswe@bangor.ac.uk

WOODLAND MANAGEMENT: PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE - HERITAGE, PRACTICE AND SUSTAINABILITY

Thursday, 22 March 2018
6.15pm – 8.45pm
Room G23 Thoday Building, Bangor University,
LL57 2UW

This symposium brings together two renowned experts to speak on the topic of woodland management: past, present and future.

Professor Ian Rotherham, Sheffield Hallam University – author of over 400 publications and co-editor of Woodland Heritage Manual

Graham Taylor MBE, Director of Pryor and Rickett Silviculture, Trustee of Woodland Heritage, Co-Chairman of Future Trees Trust

Organised by Bangor Forestry Students Association (BFSA) in collaboration with the Institute for the Study of Welsh Estates and Woodland Heritage.

'ALL WELCOME'

iswe.bangor.ac.uk/
www.woodlandheritage.org/
<https://www.facebook.com/groups/2223783770/> (BFSA)

Estate trees grown in the past for aesthetics

Tree producing cones in the present

Above: oak seedling for the future

Left: Students planting trees for the future

For more information: iswe@bangor.ac.uk